Soil Survey Is Featured at Ki Lunch

Dr. Newton, of University of Alberta, Gives Description of Surveys Carried on by Department of Agriculture—Many Visitors From the Surrounding Districts.

Dr. Newton, of the Department of Agriculture of the University of Alberta, outlined the work of the soils surveys that are being carried on in the province, at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday evening. Many of the members took advantage of the opportunity by inviting many of the farmers of the district to the meeting.

"The object of the soil surveys," said Dr. Newton, "is to eventually cover the whole of the possible agricultural land of the province and make an inventory of the soils." This inventory will take the form of soil maps and reports. These will show the better land that should be broken up first. It is also on the basis of such that the government are aiding the farmers in the south. Such reports determine as well the location of experimental farms in the province, as the object in the establishment of such is to put them on as representative soil as possible.

Dr. Newton then gave briefly the history of the surveys in the province, telling of the parts that have been covered by both Dominion and provincial surveys. Not much of the province has been covered as yet, but the work is progressing favorably.

The survey parties cover each township carefully in the area in which they are working, travelling by means of cars. The soil is examined for texture and type, and samples are sent in to the laboratory at the University for mechanical and chemical analysis. From the data collected in this manner the reports are compiled.

Dr. Newton then outlined, with the help of maps, the various areas in the province, showing the difference in the composition of the soils of each area. The profiles and theories in connection with the gumbo areas were particularly interesting.

The fertility of the soil and the crop producing capacity is determined by the percentage of nitrogen, phosphorus, calcium and magnesium in the soil. This contrasts the common belief that with an abundance of moisture soils will produce crops for ever. Experiments show that nitrogen is apt to be the first to play out. Soils with a low percentage of nitrogen should be replenished often by a crop of legumes as clover, alfalfa and such.

ORDER ROYAL PURPLE ENTERTAIN THE B.P.O.E.

On Monday evening last the members of the Order of the Royal Purple entertained the members of the B. P. O. E. The evening was opened with "500," the fortunate ones being Mr. Richards, winner of the Gent's first, and Mrs. Graham, winner of the Ladies' first. After cards a dainty lunch was served. The big feature here was the mystery cake. This cake contained three coins, a five cent, a ten cent and a twenty-five cent piece. Mr. Candler, the locator of the five cent piece had to tell how he proposed to his wife; Mr. Kretzschmar, the finder of the ten cent piece told of his wonderful honeymoon; and Mr. Recknagle, the winner of the twenty-five cent piece, told of the most embarrassing moment of his life, and it was a thriller.

After lunch was over, the Honored Royal Lady Mrs. Burkholder, gave the address of welcome. This was replied to in a most excellent fashion, by Mr. Howatt. The men seconded the motion by singing "For they are jolly good fellows." Then came the stunts! The winners were: Balloon contest, Mr. Chaffee; string walking contest, Mr. Male; peanut contest, Mr. Joe Richards; pattern contest, Mr. Martin. The evening closed with dancing. The guests of the party say that they will have a hard time thinking up a better entertainment when it comes their turn.

Gave Ruling In Favor of Magistrate

Objection Raised to Magistrate Angus Acting in Trial Against Representative of Saskatoon Firm Selling Clothing Here—Application is Dismissed.

Some weeks ago a charge was laid before Police Magistrate Angus against one McElhinney for selling clothes in the City of Wetaskiwin for a Saskatoon firm without a license. Mr. A. Knox, acting as solicitor for McElhinney, objected to Mr. Angus trying the case on the ground that he received some insurance business from the City of Wetaskiwin and there was consequently an apprehension that he would exhibit partiality or bias in a case wherein the City was interested.

An application was subsequently made before Mr. Justice Mitchell at the Supreme Court at Edmonton for the purpose of having Mr. Angus prohibited from hearing the cases. The application was opposed by the Attorney-General's Department of the Province and also by the City of Wetaskiwin. It appeared from the evidence that the revenue derived by Mr. Angus from the insurance business done by him with the City in the course of a year amounts to $22.00. Mr. Justice Mitchell gave a written decision and concludes his judgment as follows:

"I am unable to conclude that the revenue derived from the insurance premium under the circumstances either a direct or indirect pecuniary interest. In this particular case, nor do I think that the circumstances can be construed as creating what might be considered a substantial interest other than pecuniary."

"The material before me does not establish bias on the part of the Magistrate nor a reasonable apprehension thereof. I must therefore refuse the application with costs."

C. Becker for the Attorney-General's Department, C. H. Russell for the City of Wetaskiwin, A. Knox for the Applicant.

RAIN GENERAL IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA

Calgary, June 10.—Encouraging reports from Lake Louise indicate that conditions are such that no abnormal flood may be expected on the Bow river within the next few days.

Floods in Calgary are invariably the result of a combination of heavy prairie rains and a sudden run off in the mountains, the latter generally precipitated by heavy, warm rain. Advice received this morning show that the rain has been general from Red Deer south, with a concentration in the Altitude, Teher and Macleod districts.

The town of Barons reported a cloudburst on Thursday afternoon. Half an hour of violent rain left the streets deep in water.

Headmaster (speaking on phone): "You say Tommy Brown has a bad cold, to-day and won't be able to come to school today? Who is that speaking?"

ANGLICAN CHURCH ACTIVE IN HOME MISSIONARY WORK

Many people in Wetaskiwin have noticed the big Ford truck with the name of the Anglican Diocese Sunday School Mission Van, around here during the past few days. The van is occupied by two ladies, namely Mrs. K. McKowen and Miss B. de Visser Thomas. The chief objects of the workers are to visit lonely families in isolated districts, to establish Sunday Schools by post where no religious facilities are available and to help the various Anglican priests in the diocese to get in touch with the scattered and remote parts of their parishes. Every year the ladies have thrilling and interesting experiences during the performance of their work which is undertaken voluntarily.

During their stay in Wetaskiwin the ladies have addressed the Wetaskiwin Guild and have visited many of the new families to the West of Wetaskiwin. At the time of writing they are out visiting scattered Anglicans of the district and on Sunday next will address and teach in the Sunday Schools in Ponoka. On Tuesday last they were the guests of the I.O.D.E. and after church on Sunday Mrs. H. W. Wright entertained informally.

Rev. W. H. Hatfield has also been staying as the guest of Rev. D. McKowen. He is on his way back from a missionary tour of the territory to the West of Wetaskiwin and has visited the following places: among others; Buck Lake, Hoadley, Breton, Winfield, Burdell, Springdale, Yeoford, etc.

It is to be hoped that the efforts which are being made to minister to these difficult parts will tend to increase and stimulate the loyalty and faithfulness of the Anglicans of Wetaskiwin to their religion, to their parish and to their church organizations.

DID THE PRINTER?

The printer of the Great Bond (Kans.) church service last Sunday was "The Lord Reginoth," but the printer who made the programs made it "The Lord Resigneth."—Kansas City Star.

Pearce Street to be Decorated for Great Jubilee Celebration

The Committee superintending decorations for the Jubilee celebration at the month-end, have been making plans for an elaborate decoration scheme extending from the gate of the Fair Grounds to Dr. McColligan's corner.

An effort is being made to have all homes as well as all business places cooperate with them in decorating with the colors of the day and we understand that prizes are to be offered for the most appropriately decorated front and windows of business places.

All that is holding the Decoration Committee from completing the plan is the decision of the Finance Committee with respect to appropriation of the sum required.

The plans of the committee are worthy of every co-operation and it is hoped that every place of business and every home in this city will be decorated for the occasion, illustrative of their full spirit of Canadianism.

The Diamond Jubilee of the Confederation of Canada

(By Norman R. Cole "Uncle Dick")

My Dear Boys and Girls of Canada: Birthdays are such funny things! While we are young we just love them. Then, as we grow older, we try to forget them. Even the young ladies don't like them mentioned at all—when they get past thirty. Do you remember your birthday? Of course you do! Have you ever had a birthday party? Sure, you have, and such a jolly time it was too.

Have you ever stopped to think what a variety of Birthdays there really are? Those that we remember chiefly are our own Birthdays, and the Birthdays of those near and dear to us. Father's Birthday, Mother's Birthday, The Birthdays of Sisters and Brothers, of Aunts and Uncles, of friends and playmates. And then, too, we remember the Birthday of the King, and specially rejoice because we have a holiday on that occasion.

Little girls I have known have even had Birthdays for their dolls; and when I was a wee, small boy, ever so long ago, I used to celebrate my little doggie's Birthday—almost every week! Of course, that was before I really understood that Birthdays, real Birthdays, only come once a year.

While we are young, we look forward to heaps and heaps of Birthdays in the future, but when we have grown old we look back on our Birthdays with regret, for having passed them. Yet all the same, we seldom forget them, for they are not milestones on the way of life.

What excitement there was over our youthful Birthdays! How eagerly we planned them weeks and weeks ahead. How impatiently we inquired for the date and the day, long before it was due. And how excited we grew as we issued invitations to our friends for our new Birthday party. What wonderful decorations were put up for our celebration of the great event. What mysterious comings and goings.

Confederation and After; Sixty Years of Progress; Epic of Wheat.

Sixty years of Confederation have brought progress far exceeding the hopes of the pioneers who laid the foundations of the Dominion, and the very coping stone of this arch of achievement is "Wheat."

In celebrating the Diamond Jubilee, Canadians should recall the truly marvellous story of wheat. The three prairie provinces produce the greater bulk of the Canadian wheat crop, and almost all of the exportable surplus of about 300,000,000 bushels annually. It is a story which proves the ability of the Canadian people to conquer the greatest obstacles, to adapt themselves to nature and to unite science with industry.

In 1867 wheat production—and all agricultural production was confined to the central and eastern provinces—was 21,000,000 bushels, barely enough to feed the population of 3,270,000 people. The prairie west, not yet confederated, was a dismal wilderness, a summering land for Indian lands, and a grazing paradise for buffalo.

Twenty years brought the west into Confederation and witnessed the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The faith of Canadians in the western plains was unshaken, but the outside world scoffed at the mad dream that sometime the prairies would yield to the plough. As late as 1881 a responsible British publication said of the prairies that it was as sensible to develop them "as to endeavor to carry out a scheme for the utilization of icebergs. The prairies are frost bound for seven or eight months of the year. Men and cattle are frozen to death in numbers that would astonish and those not killed outright are often maimed for life."

Settlement proceeded slowly. Until the turn of the century Canadians themselves regarded the prairies as a ranching country. Wheat could not be grown successfully because the varieties then in existence required 120 days or more to ripen and the growing season was too short.

By 1906 wheat production had climbed to 125,000,000 bushels, mostly produced outside of the prairies. In that year Dr. C. G. Saunders, Dominion cerealist, concluded experiments he had been carrying on at the Ottawa Experimental Farm with the announcement that he had discovered a new wheat—Marquis—which yielded five bushels more per acre than any other variety and ripened in 110 days.

Climping ten days off the growing season made the prairies the granary of the world. The era of the wheat farmer had dawned. In 1909, production mounted to 165,000,000 bushels. In 1911, it soared to 220,000,000 bushels, and in 1915 to 281,500,000 bushels. A strip two hundred miles wide across the prairies was turned from a ranching country to a wheat-growing area.

In 1923 a record of production—474,000,000 bushels—was established.

However, the end was not yet. Still further northward for a distance of another two hundred miles is a wonderful meadow and lake country. The Canadian agricultural scientists, remembering the achievement of Dr. Saunders, continued their research work. A hardy early ripening wheat was brought from the Himalayas and crossed with the best domestic strains. The result was announced in 1926 by L. H. Newman, who has succeeded Dr. Saunders as Dominion Cerealist. Garnet Wheat was started on its way—a wheat equal to Marquis in quality and yield, and ripening in one hundred days.

This was no unconsidered announcement. Garnet had been tested along the Hudson Bay railway and at experimental stations in the north. It has stood the most exacting tests.

In 1926 the entire stock of Garnet, 12,000 bushels, was distributed to several thousands of farmers. The reports received leave no doubt but that it fulfills all that has been claimed for it.

With the discovery of Garnet, wheat the northern limit of the wheat producing area of Canada has rolled back two hundred miles. From 1900 to 1910 the Canadian Government advertised in Europe and the United States for pioneers to fill Canada's "Last Great West" waiting for the pioneer.

The Story of Radio

Canada's first use of radio, was the establishment of radiotelegraph communication between stations at Belle Isle and Chateau Bay on the mainland on the north side of the Belle Isle Straits, as a substitute for a submarine cable which was continually being interrupted by icebergs.

The stations were built by the Marconi Company. Power for the transmitter was obtained from dry batteries, and the receiving sets were of the most primitive type, using Marconi's coherer of metal filings in a glass tube as the detector.

Since 1901, when 50 miles was a long range for a station, progress in radio has been steady. In 1902, Sir William Laurier invited Mr. Marconi to Ottawa, and as a result a transatlantic radio-telegraph service between Canada and Great Britain was established. This service was inaugurated in 1907, and has been maintained ever since that date.

The apparatus of the Glace Bay transatlantic station was, of course, materially altered and improved from time to time, and last year this station was discontinued and the service transferred to a Beam Station, the latest development in radio, located at Drummondville, P.Q.

At the time of Confederation, a trip across the Atlantic was still an adventure, taking from two to three weeks. To-day the liners run with a regularity approaching that of a railroad service, and a passenger, six days before the ship is due to arrive at Montreal, by means of long distance radio, is able to reserve a room with bath for a certain hour on a certain day, as a matter of routine. As the ship approaches within 500 miles of the Canadian coast, some miles within the range of the chain of "aids to navigation" radio stations; if it is in a fog she verifies her position by means of the Direction Finders; if she desires to check her chronometer, she does so by means of the radio time signals. Every twelve hours the navigator is provided with complete weather forecasts for the area in which the ship is steaming; and he is advised of the exact location of any ice which may be in his track.

The Great Lakes and East Coast "ship to shore" radio system consists of an intercommunicating chain of 24 stations and 4 beacons, extending from Port Arthur at the head of the Great Lakes to the Atlantic, and the Pacific Coast a chain of 14 stations extending from Victoria to Alaska.

The Dominion, a country of vast areas and sparse population, lends itself to the fullest utilization of broadcasting, and there are today some 400,000 receiving sets in operation.

Canada has today some 51 broadcasting stations, practically all of which are operated by private or commercial interests for indirect advertising or publicity in one form or another.

The Province of Manitoba has established a provincial service, and it is understood that other provinces are considering the adoption of a similar policy. The Federal Administration is fully appreciative of the utility of broadcasting to this Dominion and will see that it develops along the lines which will give the best possible result to our listening public.

Takes Fuel With Him

A soldier on a troopship had witnessed for the first time a burial at sea. Owing to the absence of the conventional "round shot" some coal in a sack was placed at the dead man's feet.

The soldier remarked: "Lumme, I've seen a few beggars shuffle off since this war started, but that's the first I've seen takin' his own fuel with him!"

Official Version of "O Canada"

The following is the accepted official version of "O Canada" which has been adopted by the Association of Canadian Clubs. This is known as the "Wells" version. Our readers will do well to cut this out for future reference and in addition the youngsters of the family might do well to copy the words so that they will be available for use at the big celebration in town on Dominion Day.

O Canada! Our Home and Native Land!
True patriot-love in all thy sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The True North, strong and free,
And stand on guard, O Canada,
We stand on guard for thee.

O Canada, glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!

O Canada! Where plumes and maples grow,
Great prairies spread and lordly rivers flow,
How dear to us thy broad domain,
From East to Western Sea,
Thou land of hope for all who toil!
Thou true North, strong and free!

O Canada, glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!

O Canada! Beneath thy shining skies
May stalwart sons and gentle maidens rise,
To keep thee steadfast through the years
From East to Western Sea,
Our own beloved native land!
Our True North, strong and free!

O Canada, glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!

Ruler Supreme, who hearest humble prayer,
Hold our Dominion in Thy loving care.
Help us to find, O God, in Thee,
A lasting, rich reward,
As waiting for the Better Day
We ever stand on guard!

O Canada, glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!

WETASKIWIN

Of all the bitter hatreds, it always seems to me there never was greater than the Blackfoot's for the Cree. They fought and scalped and tortured, in their wars across the plain. And the Cree still hates the Blackfoot,—he loathes his very name.

And so the hatred smolders as they pass each other by—They feel that through the ages it always is a tie. For neither is the victor, and so the truce seems pale. Their fathers for the common good smoked by the northern trail.

The Cree, with his squaws and children, and all their things of worth was coming down the prairie south,—they felt the lords of earth. And the Blackfoot, on his northern trail, felt quite secure from harm. Each felt the other far away, and so felt no alarm.

The Cree passed over Pipestone Creek, led through the hills their train; The Blackfoot journeyed towards the hills across the peaceful plain; When, upon a rounded crest, these two hostile warriors met,— The Cree looked over southward,—North the Blackfoot's face was set.

On braves in front and hand behind a silence settled down. The bright sun, dulled by passing cloud, seemed on the scene to frown. The young braves urged to fight it out, their blood ran hot and wild; The old chiefs, slaked by many wars, looked for a way more mild.

Their goals, their squaws, their every all, they each had in their train. Well were they matched, to dare not fight,—each feared he might not gain.

And there the sat the hours through, beneath the blazing sun; They would not move from off the trail, nor go the way they'd come.

There sat the Blackfoot, there the Cree, for once alike the thought, For from each train a squaw came forth, and word for all they sought. Each hairy chief dismounted then, and sat beside the fire. They pulled the pipes that brought the peace, and tried to conquer their ire.

So each tribe watched its fires smoke, the Blackfoot and the Cree, And brooding were the eyes of all, that such a sight could be! The hostess now was buried, to Peace Pipe still was warm. That each for his had done his best, into their minds was born.

And there among those rolling hills they bade the fighting cease, And that is why the lovely place is called the Hills of Peace. Then back to lead their people,—they did as they saw best,— Both bands drew off the trails far, one east, and one to west.

And there, the empty trail between, the Cree and Blackfoot passed; Their fighting days were over, but hatred still would last. The sun shined o'er the prairie broad from early morn till late, And constant as its shining is the Cree and Blackfoot hate.

ARTICLE No. 23

Mr. H. G. Wells, the well known English writer, in his latest book has followed the saying about the "round shot" some coal in a sack was placed at the dead man's feet.

The soldier remarked: "Lumme, I've seen a few beggars shuffle off since this war started, but that's the first I've seen takin' his own fuel with him!"

While the writer doesn't know Mr. Wells, he is willing to wager that he isn't a bridge player. No one who has ever played and enjoyed bridge would write such nonsense. Cards are a diversion and diversion is just as necessary as business or religion or any of the other pursuits of life. Talley, the great diplomat, never carried a pack of cards. He was sure of a happy old age, and the writer agrees with him. Bridge, the greatest of all card games, is always a joy and its endless variety is always full of charm. But to get the greatest pleasure from it, you must play well and to play well you must improve your game.

The play of the hand is always interesting, particularly when playing with friends. The following example is illustrated by a hand of cards which should be thoroughly understood:

Problem No. 33

Hearts—A, Q, 3
Clubs—A, 10, 9, 8, 7, 3
Spades—A, 10, 9, 7

Y :
A B :
Z :

Hearts—10, 8, 7, 4
Clubs—10, 9, 7, 4
Diamonds—none
Spades—Q, J, 8, 6, 2

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A bid one diamond. Y no-trump and B passed. Z bid two spades, all passed and A opened the bag of diamonds. How should Z play the top of the hand? An analysis of the play and the hands of A and B will be given in the next article.

Discarding is one of the puzzling points of action on any problem. It illustrates a common principle of discarding should be carefully studied and understood. The following is one of that type:

Problem No. 34

Hearts—A, J
Clubs—A, 7, 5, 4
Diamonds—none
Spades—K, 5

Y :
A B :
Z :

Hearts—none
Clubs—K, 8, 3
Diamonds—Q, 7
Spades—A, J

Hearts—7, 6, 5, 3
Clubs—10, 9, 8, 4, 2
Diamonds—4, 2
Spades—Q

If diamonds are trumps and Z is in the lead, how can Y-Z win all of the tricks? Z should lead the seven and try of clubs which are now good. A is forced to take two discards. One discard is the ace. Z should now lead the king of hearts on which Z should discard the king and four of spades are good. If he discards a heart, Y's eight of hearts and Z's king of spades are good. In any event, therefore, Y-Z must win all of the tricks. It is a pretty and interesting problem.

WHEAT POOL NOTES

Pool to Build Terminal

The Alberta Wheat Pool will build a terminal elevator at Vancouver this summer with a capacity of 2,400,000 bushels. This will be the largest terminal on the coast. The cost will be $2,000,000.

Plans for the structure are now being prepared and a start on construction will be made in July. The terminal will be completed in time to handle the crop of 1928.

With the completion of this structure the Pool will have control of over five and a quarter million bushels of terminal space on the Pacific Coast. Four million bushels of this elevator space will be in Vancouver.

The site for the new elevator was recently acquired in Vancouver Harbor, and is considered to be one of the best elevator sites there.

The Vancouver Sun says, in this connection: "This two million dollar elevator is Alberta's positive endorsement of Vancouver as a world port and the logical outlet for Western grain."

Membership Campaign Under Way

The drive for the sign-up of the Second Series of Wheat Pool contracts is under way and meeting with splendid response. A Wheat Pool Rally was held in Calgary previous to the commencement of the campaign. The Pool delegates, members of Parliament, representatives of urban centres, and others, attended this gathering. Addresses were delivered by Premier Gardiner, of Saskatchewan, Premier Brownlee, of Alberta, Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., M.P., Senator Buchanan, of Lethbridge, Mayor Durr, of Edmonton, Mayor Osborne, of Calgary, and C. O. Smyth, editor of the Calgary Herald. In a series of splendid speeches these men urged that the Wheat Pool movement be given generous support, in the best interests of all Alberta.

Premier Brownlee predicted success in the drive because of the great improvement in Alberta's prosperity following the formation of the Wheat Pool. Premier Gardiner predicted that those who looked for the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool to fail were in for a serious disappointment. Hon. Mr. Bennett said that the failure of the Alberta Pool to obtain a large sign-up would put agriculture back fifty years in this province.

GIVE ME TODAY

I would rather have one little rose From the garden of a friend, Than to have the choicest flowers When my stay on earth shall end. I would rather have the kindest words And a smile that I can see, Than flattery when my heart is still And this life has ceased to be. I would rather have a loving smile From friends I know are true, Than tears shed 'round my casket When this world I bid adieu. Bring me all the flowers today, Whether pink, or white or red; I'd rather have one blossom now Than a truck-load when 'I'm dead.

Mrs. E. Finch, 251 Silver Birch Ave., Toronto, Ont., writes:—"After my third baby was born my heart and nerves were so bad I could do no housework, and was very ill indeed. I took a load and several others who I was going to die. A friend asked me to try

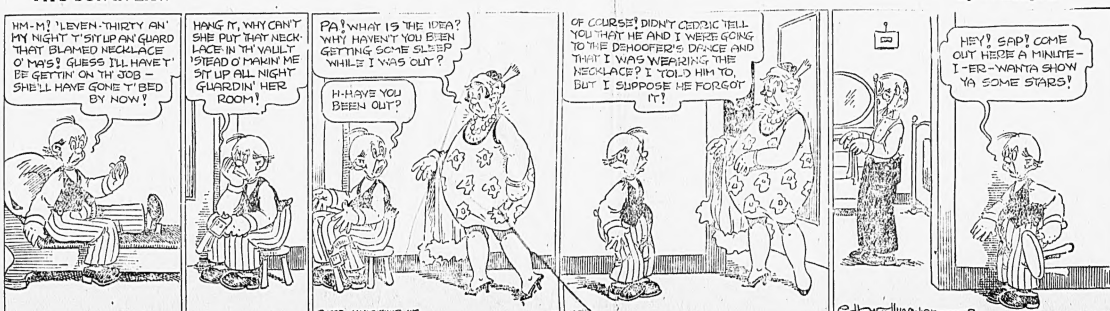

"As I had had two doctors and did not get any better I decided to try them, and believe me they are wonderful, for I am fully restored to health and strength, and may say with truth I never felt better."

I tell everyone to give them a trial, as so many people have nerve trouble, and what a relief it is to get something that really does good in these times when so many substitutes are on the market."

PA'S SON-IN-LAW

Weekly Crop Report of Canadian Pacific Railway

Winnipeg, Man., June 15.—After a careful survey of reports received from all agents and other reliable sources, the department of agriculture of the Canadian Pacific Railway submits the following preliminary estimate of 1927 wheat acreage in comparison with that of last season, feeling that the figures quoted are, if anything, on the conservative side.

Manitoba, 1927, 1,714,379, 1926, 2,285,538; Saskatchewan, 1927, 11,959,073, 1926, 13,377,854; Alberta, 1927, 5,808,598, 1926, 6,114,418. Total, 1927, 19,472,150; 1926, 21,678,114.

Spring operations are nearing completion, all wheat to be seeded being in, and the next day or so will see oats and barley seeding brought to a conclusion. The prospects are splendid because of moisture. The cool weather tending to develop good roots and bring out a stronger stand. Oats and barley are coming along well.

One or two reports of cutworm activities have been received, but damage was hardly worth mentioning. Hay crops look well and will be early, this also applies to alfalfa and sweet clover.

The weather in Manitoba for the first four days of last week brought grain along fast. Wheat is all in and with a few exceptions cut seedling is completed. Barley is now being sown and 80 to 85 per cent is in the ground. Flax is also being sown where seed is available.

Since the beginning of June, the weather conditions in Saskatchewan have been good and crop growth excellent. Since Thursday last temperatures have been lower and while not conducive to rapid growth, will materially benefit root system. All intended wheat acreage is in. Coarse grain seedling is a whole average 85 to 90 per cent completed. Early crops are looking well, wheat being up six to eight inches. Fall rye is of good stand and is coming into shot blade.

Conditions in Alberta are excellent. Another week of good weather will bring all crops up to one hundred per cent. Wheat seeding is completed, all coarse grain seedling is in. Delayed districts. Ground is being prepared for green feed. With summer-fallowing, plowing and new breaking well under way. Pasture conditions are good and live-stock are improving with an abundant hay crop expected.

Crops are coming along well in British Columbia, with plenty of moisture. Large acreage of potatoes is being put in and conditions are excellent to start them. Potato plantings throughout the province have been heavy. Strawberries will be a good crop, and picking should be general this week. Raspberries, raspberries, gooseberries, blackberries and currants are in good condition, but it is not expected the crop will be as heavy as last year, although a normal yield is anticipated. Stone fruits, particularly peaches and apricots will be only a partial crop owing to the early spring frost damage. Apples in the Okanagan are looking well and a good yield is expected although probably lighter than 1926. The recent rains have generally benefitted vegetable and grain crops.

COAST TO COAST PREPARATION FOR JUBILEE CELEBRATION

Ottawa, June 7.—With the Jubilee of Confederation less than a month away reports received by the National Committee here indicate that the arrangements for the celebration throughout the Dominion are well in hand everywhere, and that the various localities are vying with each other in their desire to show to the world that, after sixty years, Canada is a united country in spirit and in fact. Not only are the cities and big centres of population giving generously of their time, energy and finances to insure that the anniversary is adequately celebrated but from the remotest points come reports that citizens of Canada, young and old, are enthusiastically preparing for the event a month hence. While the National Committee, shortly after its organization, circulated throughout the Dominion a suggested programme for the three days of celebration, starting with July 1st, and ending with the third, reports indicate that there will be a wide and interesting divergence of features characteristic of the various parts of the Dominion, and typical of their respective interests and pursuits. From Atlantic to Pacific there is evidence of a universal desire for the manifestation of Canadian sentiment, irrespective of varied geographical or economic conditions. Reports show that there will be a wholesome manifestation of Confederation, and of satisfaction in the results thereof.

Local programmes will, of necessity, be diversified, and varied in character, and will include community singing, athletic and sporting contests, regattas, pageants, and floats, the planting of maple trees, the unveiling of monuments and memorials, ceremonies connected with the naming and dedication of Confederation parks and squares, folk dances, and Indian pow-wows, old long reunions, and the gathering together of venerable and venerated figures, fire-workers, and bonfires, children's festivals, etc. Edmonton is to entertain 15,000 children from its public and separate schools to a huge children's celebration in Victoria Park on June 23rd. The committee has conceived the thought of having the Edmonton school child of the family with the longest Canadian ancestry light the bonfire that will be one of the thousands and flames set alight on Jubilee night. The same city's celebration also includes the placing of wreaths on the grave of Father LaCombe— noted missionary.

Canadian Wealth Goes Up in Smoke

The forest fire situation in Canada during 1926 again proved a very serious one. Indifference, ignorance and carelessness, and other malevolent forces meant a total loss and gross damage to Canada last year estimated at $7,408,243. Since the exploitation of Canadian forests first began it is estimated that from four to five times the amount of timber actually used has been burned through forest fires. When it is realized that the forests are the second greatest source of wealth, agriculture being first, the waste from forest fires each year can only be likened to the damage done if four-fifths of Canada's great field crops were destroyed each year.

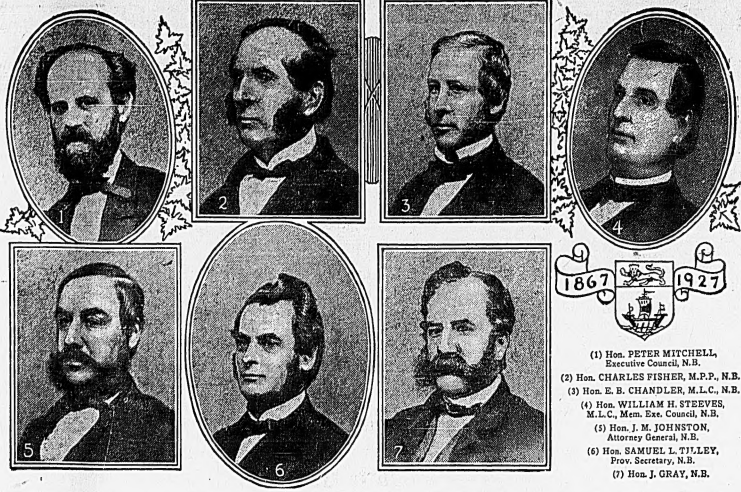

Forest week has been observed this year in Canada from April 25 to 30, coming in the middle of the season when forest fires are often most serious. Perhaps the greatest offenders against the national wealth of the country during the summer and fall months are a great army of tourists campers which invades the woods from the Pacific to the Atlantic every year.

"Mind! Before You Go, See that Your Fire is Out." Warnings worded something to that effect have been posted generously throughout the northern woods, especially in Ontario, and of the thousands of campers there are none who are not familiar with the bright yellow placard and its warning. Yet a deplorable number of tourists who call themselves good campers apparently think that such signs have been posted by the fire rangers merely to point out a good portage.

Burning cigar ends and cigarette stubs and, above all, the little camp fire that doesn't look as though it could do a bit of harm in the world, are the cause of great fires throughout the northern woods that mean a loss of millions annually to Canada.

It has been noticed that some of the worst forest fires have been started by some apparently petty care-

CANADIAN CANDY COLLEGE

A SUCCESS

The Canadian Candy College, which has been holding classes here part of last and this week, has been a wonderful success. The college has offered courses in the making of five fundamental kinds of candy, courses in one or all of these kinds.

The college is revolutionizing the art of candy making by bringing years of English experience to their students at a very nominal cost.

The students who have taken these courses have commented most highly of the arrangements, the services offered and the recipes given by the college. All would agree, who have tasted the candies, that they are of the highest quality. One of the students claimed that her art of candy making was revolutionized and simplified.

Certainly this college is unique as it is the only one of its kind in Canada, and because of the par excellence of its products and because of the high standards it is endeavoring to keep in professional and home candy making.

WETASKIWIN LADIES WIN FROM EDMONTON RINKS

On Tuesday evening last, three rinks from the Ladies' C.P.R. Bowling Club of Edmonton, were defeated here by rinks of the Wetaskiwin Ladies' Bowling Club. The Wetaskiwin ladies won five games out of the six played. After the game an entertainment in the form of a banquet was given in the Women's Institute building in honor of the visiting teams.

MILLET DEFEATS WETS

To local seniors were defeated 9 to 1 in a nine-inning game at the Diamond Park on Friday evening, the visitors excelling with the stick and in scouting them up in the infield. The Wets got away to a bad start, the visitors notching a quartette of tallies in the first frame. From then on the game was much more interesting.

A woman was buying a hat, and when the transaction was over she asked the assistant:

"What do you charge for cleaning feathers?"

"Sixpence each, madam," was the reply.

"Oh, I could never pay that price," gasped the customer.

"How many have you, madam? If you have a sufficient number we might make a reduction in the price."

"Why, I've two birds full."

CONFEDERATION AND AFTER—SIXTY YEARS OF PROGRESS SIXTY YEARS OF SPORT

It may be regarded as somewhat in the nature of a coincidence that lacrosse, once Canada's undisputed national game, was placed on an organized footing in Confederation year, when a gathering of expert players and lovers of the game met at Kingston to frame rules and legislate for the future conduct of the sport. For forty years after that period lacrosse grew and flourished, but some fifteen years ago the game showed symptoms of losing its popularity. The newer generation did not take to lacrosse as did their fathers and to-day the game can scarcely justify its once proud title of Canada's national pastime.

In winter sports, however, another form of athletic endeavor was born in the middle of the 80's and has now largely assumed the place once held in the affections of the public by lacrosse. This is hockey, which today is played by countless organizations from coast to coast. Another development by no means confined to Canada has been the rise of golf. The number of clubs have sprung up. There is scarcely a town of any size in the country, and certainly none with any pretensions to fashionable sport that has not its golf links and club house.

Football, introduced into Canada by British soldiers after the conquest of Quebec, did not make any particular headway until adopted by the colleges and universities about 1880. The game is still largely a college sport and has a strong hold on the student body and graduates.

Still another form of outdoor sport that has grown immensely in popularity is basketball. This is a modification of baseball and is greatly favored by school pupils of both sexes because of the elimination of the dangerous hard ball of the parent game. Basketball is a game that has won a very high place in the regard of educational authorities which possess facilities for gymnasium exercise in Canada run into the thousands. Large industrial and other corporations have taken up the matter of providing playing floors for their employees and many of these organizations have formed leagues for the clubs in their own line of activity.

Skiing, which made its appearance in Canada about twenty-five years ago, has completely usurped the place once held by the native winter sport of snowshoeing. The latter has almost disappeared, although at one time it was Canada's predominant winter pastime.

It may safely be said that the period since Confederation has witnessed a complete reversal of the general attitude towards outdoor exercise in every form. In the days of the union of the provinces and for many years thereafter the practice of athletics was confined to those who made it more or less of a business or profession and to a very small percentage of the general public. The great mass of the people were content to look on. But nowadays the urge is for active participation in the game itself and as a result men and women in all walks of life and almost of all ages have taken up some form of athletic exercise. The great variety of games provides an opportunity for all to take part in some suitable sport. Where sixty years ago there were but one or two recognized outdoor pastimes, there are now easily a score, lawn bowling, tennis, golf, and other games have replaced the dignified croquet of our grandparents. Freedom from the conventional forms of dress has also done much to popularize modern sport with the feminine portion of the community. The common sense costumes which characterize golf, skiing, swimming and allied pastimes have won countless devotees to these forms of athletic exercise. The evolution of sport clothes would, if studied, be found to have exercised a rather interesting influence on the spread of outdoor games.

Canada's climate is likewise a factor in the spread of athletics. The four seasons are so sharply defined that each has its "own particular sports, suited to the climatic conditions, and nearly every game in the calendar of athletics finds here its best environment. In this respect the Dominion has a considerable advantage over many other countries, and while it has taken our people some time to appreciate this fact, it is evident that henceforth Canadian sports will be enjoyed to the full, not only by our own citizens but by vast numbers of visitors to the Dominion.

COMPETITION

A young matron in whom the shopping instinct was strong, asked a German butcher the price of Hamburger steak.

"Twenty-five cents a pound," he replied.

"But," she said, "the price at the corner store is only twelve cents."

"Well," asked Otto, "why don't you buy down there?"

"They haven't any," she explained.

"Oh, I see," replied the butcher.

"Ven I don't have it, I sell it for ten cents."

Sports Galore at Angus Ridge on Wednesday Next

Wetaskiwin devotees of athletic sports will be much in the limelight at Angus Ridge next Wednesday, the occasion being a field day at Community Hall, an elaborate program having been arranged, in which baseball and tug-of-war will play a prominent part. Horse races and foot races are also on the card, and a dance will be held in the evening.

The opening baseball game is scheduled for 12:30 o'clock, with the Millet crew and the Angus Ridge gang crossing bats, and the Malmo and Wetaskiwin fence-busting experts will also show their wares, in the hope of annexing the final top honors of the day of thrills.

Wetaskiwin's strong men will be out in force, and will engage in combat with the farmer boys with the tug-of-war prize the big objective. Ladies' teams from Wetaskiwin and the country are bidden to stage some excitement in their pulls.

Other athletic events round out an excellent day's sports.

Provincial Weekly News Bulletin

Government Again to Assist Exhibitors
Assistance given by the Provincial and Federal Departments of Agriculture to exhibitors sending animals to the Toronto Royal Winter Fair and the Chicago International will again enable Alberta stockmen to be well represented at these big events in the fall of 1927. The arrangements adopted during the past several years, whereby the Provincial Government pays 25 per cent of the freight charges and the Dominion Government pays the remaining 75 per cent on animals shipped from the Province to Toronto, will again apply this year.

In addition the sum of $25 will be allowed by the Provincial Department of Agriculture to cover feed charges for every head of horses or cattle and $8 for every head of sheep or swine, on animals selected by representatives of the Provincial Livestock Board, with a maximum of $250 to be paid to any one exhibitor. Transportation will be paid for one attendant accompanying each car of exhibition stock with the exception of palace horse cars, and the Department will pay for the assembling of stock where two or more exhibitors ship in the same car.

Selection of the animals to be shown, as well as arrangements for shipping and exhibiting will be in the hands of a committee representing the Department of Agriculture and the Provincial Livestock Board and consisting of J. C. Vale of Carstairs, J. W. Iarvis of Calgary, Prof. J. P. Suckville of the University of Alberta and Livestock Commissioner S. G. Carlyle. Stockmen and breeders in the province who have animals which they consider of sufficient quality to meet the competition which the Eastern shows will afford are asked to communicate with some member of this committee in order that selection may be made as early as possible and that Alberta may be represented by as excellent an exhibit as has gone from the province in previous years. It is expected that the Department of Animal Husbandry at the University of Alberta will again have a number of very choice beef steers of the type which on so many occasions has carried off the highest honors for Alberta breeders.

In addition to its assistance to livestock exhibitors, the Provincial Government will again encourage the sending of exhibits of grain from the province to the Chicago International where the winning of championships in both wheat and oats by Herman Treble of Wheatley in 1926 attracted much favorable attention to Alberta. It is felt that the payment of transportation charges on exhibits from the province and suitable recognition in the form of an honorarium for the winning of prizes and championships will foster a keen interest on the part of Alberta farmers in adding to the honors Alberta has won in international competition in previous years and in advertising the grain-growing possibilities of the province.

Two Oil Wells Reach Production
News reports during the past week indicate that two new oil wells have established themselves as producers in the province. The Devonian Petroleum No. 1 Well in the Skiff Field drilled into a production of crude oil estimated at from 200 to 250 barrels daily, while a strike of light gravity crude oil was made at a depth of 3,490 feet in the Dalhousie No. 10 Well in Turner Valley. The result in both of these wells is further proof of the wide extent of the beds of oil-bearing sands underlying sections of the province.

Contracts Let for Telephone Work
Contracts have been let by the Provincial Government, Department of Telephones, for some $75,000 of rebuilding and replacement work on phone lines throughout the province during the present season. The territory to be covered in this way extends from Cardston to Westlock, thus taking in the heaviest part of the provincial phone system.

A gain of 74 telephone stations is reported by the Department in the month of May. Continuous service

Encourage District Exhibits

A handsome bronze plaque representing the parliament buildings is being donated by the Provincial Department of Agriculture to be awarded for the best district exhibit at the 1927 Edmonton Summer Exhibition. The districts exhibits competition is open to any electoral division north of Red Deer, the prizes in 1926 being won by Vermilion, St. George, Wetaskiwin and Leduc. It is expected that many districts this year will be given valuable publicity through the entry of an exhibit of this kind.

New Fish Hatcheries Proposed
Prospective sites for the establishment of one or more fish hatcheries in Alberta in addition to the one in operation at Banff are being inspected at the present time by officials of the Department of Fisheries, Ottawa. Lesser Slave Lake, Jasper and Waterton Lakes are among the points in the province being considered. The growing importance of Alberta's fisheries demands additional sources of supply of game fish to cope with the increasing numbers of tourists visiting the province and to maintain an undiminished supply of stock in the commercial fisheries.

Premier to Visit Old Country
The attitude of British industry and capital towards further investment in Western Canada, and the possibility of establishing closer relations between Great Britain and this province will be one of the matters investigated by Premier Brownlee in the course of a trip to the Old Country on which he expects to leave late in June. In addition to looking into the British emigration policy as it affects the province, the Premier will make extensive inquiries into the possibility of enlarging the market for Alberta products in the Old Land.

Pool to Build Coast Elevator
Construction will be started shortly, it is announced, on the 2,400,000 bushel elevator to be erected by the Alberta Wheat Pool at Vancouver, and it is expected that the big plant will be ready to handle grain from the 1927 crop.

Emergency Home Helpers' Training
For the last few years the Departments of Health and Agriculture have been considering the need and desirability of preparing a scheme of training for Emergency Home Helpers. The Advisory Board of the Women's Institutes sent a resolution to the Minister of Health and Agriculture asking him to make arrangements for a course of training. In reply to this resolution, the Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Health and Agriculture had a tentative scheme outlined and he sent this outline to the Board. The Board submitted the scheme to the delegates attending the Provincial Convention of the Women's Institutes, and they passed a motion unanimously approving of the scheme and asking that the first course be started in April of 1928.

From many sources suggestions have come that this course be made a nursing, housekeeper one. The Department cannot consider such a course. If midwives are wanted they must have such a training that the service will be a safe and efficient one. Some of the students taking the Emergency Home Helpers' Training may feel that they wish to go further and take midwifery training and many people in the province may feel that a service of this kind is what they need. If there is such a feeling and a want to this extra service and it is demonstrated to the Department that such is the case, then the Department is prepared to take the necessary steps to put on training for midwives.

"Sign for Safety"

The Second Series of Wheat Pool Contracts

SAFETY because it is a farmer-owned and controlled co-operative Association which markets over fifty per cent of Canada's wheat crop.

SAFETY because it guarantees to the farmers every cent paid by the consumer minus only the minimum costs of marketing.

SAFETY because it increased the farmers income and independence by giving him a voice in the selling of his crop.

SAFETY because it insures the farmer against the losses and uncertainties caused by fluctuating speculative markets.

SAFETY because of low handling costs. The total annual expenses of operating the Alberta Wheat Pool in 1923, 1924 and 1925 was less than one-half a cent per bushel. The total expense of the Central Selling Agency in 1925-26 was one-fifth of a cent per bushel.

SAFETY because the Pool employs experts to handle and sell its grain.

SAFETY because Pool elevators guarantee fair weights, grades and dockage and good service.

SAFETY because the Pool merchandises wheat as the demand arises and thus avoids depressing values by offering more than the consumer will take at fair prices.

SAFETY because the sole aim of Pool salesmen is to get the true value of wheat for its members.

HOMES BEFORE AUTOMOBILES

A young girl was asking her mother one day why they had no automobile. Many of her girl friends had them, and she could not understand why her father did not buy one. The other girls thought it was because her father was too poor, and this was the chief thing in the whole matter; and even the explanation that they were trying to pay for their home could not remove the smart from their evident failure to "keep up with the Joneses."

There is rather a tragic side to this, as it is very hard to explain to a child or even to a young man or woman, that a home is to be preferred to an automobile, and the desire to live up to our neighbor's standard is sure to vex many a young heart. It seems all so needless and foolish, yet the hurt is there. The future, however, is with the home, and we should train our young folks as best we can to see the truth. A home of their very own should be the legitimate ambition of every young man and woman and if the automobile and the home cannot go together, then by all means let the automobile go, and retain the home.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT ENGLAND

The principal cities of England are: London, with 7,000,000 inhabitants; Birmingham, 800,000; Liverpool, 763,000; Manchester, 715,000; Sheffield, 470,000; Bristol, 361,000; Bradford, 350,000.

The Established Church of England is Protestant Episcopal, which has 2,500,000 communicants. The non-conformist churches have 2,000,000 members, and the Roman Catholics about the same number.

England's immense commerce is aided by an exceedingly large and efficient system of railroads amounting to a total of 2,500 miles centring in London, but covering the whole country, particularly in the north.

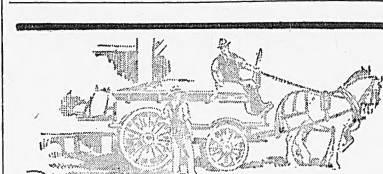

England has great resources of coal, but produces scarcely any of the precious metals. Of the other metals iron is the only one that is mined in large quantities. A thousand million dollars worth of coal is mined each year. The churches of Great Britain have used hymns as preachers much more than has been done anywhere else. The Wesleyan Methodist Church alone there are nineteen thousand local preachers.

The British railways last year carried 1,747 million passengers, and 335 million tons of goods. They cost, on an average, more than thirteen million tons of coal and nearly twenty-eight million pounds of fuel oil.

Many of the wayide lines in England have peculiar names. Here are a few of them noted by a motor tourist: "The Stump and Pie," "The Hare and Hounds," "The Plume of Feathers," "The Dog and Pig," "The Dan Cow Inn," "The Adam and Eve," "The Coach and Horses," "The Green Man." Unfortunately these places do little but sell liquor.

England has gathered together 130 little boys and girls whose bodies have for years lacked the essentials of health and placed them in a garden school at Stover House, South Side, Clapham Common—the only school in Britain where sun cures are effected. Here the greatest of all healers, sun and air, join forces with the teachers. Body and brain are being given a chance. Each child has a desk and a chair. The lessons go on as quietly and efficiently as if this were an everyday schoolroom.

JUBILEE DAY CELEBRATION

Jubilee Day celebrations will be held at Millet on Thursday, June 30th. The local school will hold a Patriotic program during the forenoon, and at one o'clock a big parade will take place of pupils from all the schools of the district. The parade will start at the Millet school and end at the athletic grounds, where there will be a program of races and other sports. Those in the parade and all children present that day will be treated to ice cream on finishing the parade, and each pupil will receive a Canadian Flag.

The committees are sparing no pains to make this a day well to be remembered as the Diamond Jubilee of our Fair Dominion. Everybody welcome.

OUR GREAT DOMINION

"Mother of a mighty manhood,
Land of glamour and of hope;
From the Eastern sea-swept islands
To the sunny Western slope."
Some people are inclined to be impatient with the material progress that Canada is making, and to speak rather slightly of what they consider the slowness of development of the Dominion. Such persons manifest an astounding ignorance of what is taking place around them—progress which would seem to be obvious to anyone who is not blind, deaf and dumb.

Canada can be considered as lacking in prosperity and as slow in material development only by comparison with conditions in the United States—by far the richest and most prosperous country the world has ever known. Compared with all the other countries of the world—the great republic alone excepted—Canada has achieved an enviable position by reason of the material prosperity and the rapidity of development. And in some directions Canada is making records which leaves even our neighbors to the south far in the rear. The Canadian Business Research Bureau is responsible for the following figures, covering our operations for 1926, with a population of less than ten millions: Canada mined minerals equal in value to the mining output of the United States when that country had a population of 38 millions.

Canada manufactured as much as the United States did when their population was 50 millions. Our 1926 foreign trade was equal in volume to that of the United States when their population was 76 millions. We did one-fourth as much export trade as the United States with only about one-tenth of their population. We had the largest favorable trade balance of any nation in the world—$400,000,000.

Canada spent $110,000,000 on the construction of automobiles, and at the same time invested $500,000,000 in bonds and added nearly 100 millions to their bank deposits. Notwithstanding a few croakers, there does not seem to be much the matter with economic conditions in Canada.—Revelation Monthly.

RIPLING RHYMES
By Walt Mason
At The Barber's

I journey to the barber's shop to sacrifice my goodly crop of red and tangled hair; the barber's chair invites repose and I can shut my eyes and doze in peaceful comfort there, when suddenly hence the barber sneers his father and applies his shears and oh his razor keen; he does his divers stunts with zeal and doesn't offer any spells or jokers in between. His tasks in silence he pursues, and doesn't say I need shampoos or coal oil on my hair; he doesn't argue to secure the merits of his dandruff cure, a compound rich and rare. He lets me slumber while he kills the whiskers on my pallid gills, he jets me dream and snore; and he and all his merry men request that I shall come again, when I go out the door. The barber of the olden days exhausted all his strength in praise of things he had for sale; he talked a blue and yellow streak while he was shaving chin and cheek, to earn his little kale. He had rich ointments which would grow new hair upon the ancient beaus whose heads were a crime, and dyes imported which would make one's sideburns a new lustre take, and unguents sublime. That sort of barber is no more; on some remote and gold-en-shore he plays his shining lute; the modern barber does his trick with quick and brisk, and skilled and quick, the while his mouth is muffled. Thus things grow better all around, and some improvements always found wherever we chance to gaze; yet there are people who deplore the death of things they knew of yore, who mourn for olden days.

HOBBEMA

Two of the oldest inhabitants of the reservation passed away last week. The first to go to the Happy Hunting Ground was Mary, beloved wife of John Rabbitt, who died on Tuesday, and was buried at Bull's Cemetery Wednesday. She was 50 years of age. The service was conducted by Chief Sanson, and there was a large attendance, not only from Sanson's Band, but also from the Bull and Ermine Bands. She was born on the Reserve and was sick about a week with the flu. She leaves five sons and three daughters.
The other oldtimer to go to her long home was Mrs. Aiviavastin, who died on the 8th inst., at the age of 65 years, and who was also born on the Reserve. Deceased was a sufferer for several months with paralysis. She was a member of the Ermine Band.

The funeral was conducted by a Roman Catholic priest and the remains were interred in the Ermine Cemetery. Deceased leaves two daughters and one son. She was the wife of one of the chiefs, who died some time ago, and was also the mother-in-law of David Headman.

Some men who stand on their dignity give evidence of not having much else to stand on.
